I urge the acceptance of the Microsoft antitrust settlement that is awaiting final adoption. From what I read in the press it meets the intent of the court of appeals. In my opinion, dragging this out any longer at the insistence of Microsoft's competitors and the renegade states is good for lawyers, but not good for the high tech industry, or the states, as a whole. I believe the faster this case is settled the better.

I am not a Microsoft employee or investor so my opinion is not based on financial gain.

Thank you for considering my opinion.

Sincerely,
Peter Jones
